WASHINGTON, July 25.—President Roosevelt returned to Washington today to meet for the first time since the Chicago convention with his 1940 running mate, Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace.

The Democratic standard bearers will map out their campaign strategy against the Republican ticket of Wendell L. Willkie and Senator Charles L. McNary at today's session.

To Discuss Manager

Also, it was expected that Mr. Roosevelt would discuss with Wallace the choice of a campaign manager to succeed James A. Farley, who is retiring as Democratic national chairman on August 17. A committee of five from the national committee headed by Edward J. Flynn, Bronx leader, will wait on the president August 1 to determine his wishes in the matter. So far, the chief executive says he has given the appointment no thought.

Another matter bringing the president back to the capitol from a three-day stay at Hyde Park was the formal White House luncheon being tendered today in honor of Prince Consort Felix of Luxembourg

PA NEWC OBSERVES

A miniature chrome chair for a tot was noticed arranged alongside two other large chairs for adults of the chrome style, on a North street front porch, which reminded Pa Newc of the "Three Bears," a big one, a middle size one, and a wee-wee small one.

Along the highways just now there is a delicately shaded blue flower which is growing in profusion. Individually the flower is not so pretty but in the mass it is a lovely thing. But not to the farmer. The flower is chicory, a pest which once in a field is as hard to get out as the Detroit Tigers on a hitting binge. It rates with ox-eyed daisies and Canadian thistle as a farm pest.

New Wilmington is apparently getting ready for the annual missionary conference. The tent auditorium is being erected on the site near the Westminster College Conservatory of Music.

Mrs. William Minner, 910 East Washington street, reports to Pa Newc that she has a beautiful array of galdoli in full bloom at her home, which she has already cut a bouquet from. The colors are rich, and represent every hue of the rainbow.

Last night was slightly cooler and a little better for sleeping than the previous nights. Pa Newc overheard a man say this morning that he actually had to have a sheet over him last night.

Back After 20 Years Muffley Finds Much To Enthuse About

"New Castle's residential section has changed a lot, and I was agreeably surprised at the fine appearance of the city, the many newly paved streets, nicely painted houses, and wide extension of the residential areas, that I noted in a trip around the city," said James I. Muffley of Tacoma, Wash., here on a brief visit after a lapse of 20 years.

"New Castle natives do not realize the change that has occurred. Nicely shaded, fine paved streets, and conditions generally mark New Castle a much improved city," he said.

Was Secretary Of Y. M. C. A.

Mr. Muffley was secretary of the New Castle Y. M. C. A. during the years of 1914-19. He left here and for the past 20 years has been located at Tacoma. Recently he has been at Montpelier, Vt., where he directed a fund raising campaign for the Pierce & Hedrick, Inc., of New York, with which he has been identified for several years past.

He is making a visit to his mother in Westmoreland county, and took a day or two to run up to New Castle to visit old friends. He was most successful while in New Castle, and took a leading part in many activities so that he was readily recalled by a large number of older residents during the visit here.

In addition to the improvement in the city, he made a trip to the Army officials admitted that it was "most unusual" for a transport to sail "under the precautions usually reserved for naval vessels".

A brief statement issued by army information service only heightened the drama of the projected voyage. Waters around the Scandinavian peninsula are mined.

Jealous Suitor Being Hunted

Slayer Of Pair In Auto At Pittsburgh Is Sought By Officers

KILLER MAY HAVE BEEN IN BACK SEAT

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, July 25—Pittsburgh police today continued their search for a jealous suitor in the mysterious double slaying of Miss Corrie Kolb, divorcee, and a friend and boarded in her home, John Edgar Ewing.

Meanwhile, authorities announced they were still holding Guiseppe Libonetti, 59, father of six daughters, whose wife died two years ago. Police said Libonetti, who aroused suspicion by his excited behavior at the scene of the gruesome shooting, had failed to give a satisfactory explanationn of his activities at the time the crime was committed.

The couple were seated in a car in the old Esplen section of West Carson street, when the killer suddenly appeared, fired five shots into his victims and fled over a nearby hill.

Detectives said it was possible that the killer was a back seat passenger in the death car since Ewing who apparently was driving, was shot in the back of the head.

Police theorized Ewing was shot first and that Miss Kolb was shot as she fled out of the right door of the parked vehicle.

HAVANNA, July 25.—Keeping a close eye on the Argentine delegation, Secretary of State Cordell Hull today sought realistic economic and military agreements from Latin American diplomats attending the inter-American conference of foreign ministers.

There was no secret in the fact that American officials in Havana are especially apprehensive lest the Argentine delegation try to weaken the effect of the conference by seeking adoption of innocuous declarations—the type Hull specifically does not want.

French Steamer Sunk By Nazis

Was Carrying French Officers And Soldiers Being Repatrioted To France

PROBABLY 300 LIVES LOST IN SINKING

(International News Service)

LONDON, July 25—With a possible loss of 300 lives, the 18,000-ton French steamer Meknes, jammed to capacity with 1,300 French officers and soldiers being repatriated to German-occupied France, was sunk by a German torpedo boat in the English channel last night, First Lord of the Admiralty A. V. Alexander announced in the house of commons today.

The ship was sunk with only scant warning, the first lord said, despite its clear markings as a French vessel.

The French government presumably had permitted the Frenchmen to go home as neutrals and lay down their arms following refusal to join the French army in exile under General Charles De Gaulle.

The Meknes, according to Alexander, flew the French flag and had the tricolor painted on her deck and sides. She was fully illuminated, he said, but nevertheless was porpedoed by an 'enemy" motorboat at 10:30 p. m. yesterday.

The crash occurred yesterday afternoon near Tyler, about 17 miles east of DuBois. The driver of the milk truck, Arthur Walburn, of DuBois received minor injuries and his brother Vernon, 14, suffered a leg fracture.

Another Torrid Day Has Grip On State

(International News Service)

Pennsylvania today once again sweltered under a scorching sun as temperatures were scheduled to reach new highs.

Best news of the current heat wave was the "possibility" that cooler weather may be due tomorrow. But the weatherman was reluctant to talk too much about it. At Pittsburgh, for instance, the weatherman said:

"It might be cooler tomorrow, but we can't be certain of it."

In western Pennsylvania yesterday Oil City reported a high of 99, while Pittsburgh mercury hit 93. Franklin reported 94, marking the fifth consecutive day on which 90 or above was registered—a new July record.

In eastern Pennsylvania more hot, humid weather was due today following last night's cooling thundershowers.

Humidity Up

Although Philadelphia's temperature high was only 86, the humidity soared upward to 95, which was 30 per cent above normal.

A forecast that Pittsburghers today would have to withstand a high of at least 92 degrees tended to indicate that northwestern communities would have highs approximately the same as yesterday.

The weather report for today was: "Generally fair and continued warm, except for scattered thundershowers."

The Allegheny river stage was 2.68 feet at Franklin, the lowest it has been since last October.

At Butler, William McIndoe, 12, was drowned as he sought to escape the heat swimming in Connoquenessing creek.

Throughout the state sudden thundershowers flooded streets and felled trees. In western Pennsylvania, particularly at Pittsburgh, many homes were struck by lightning. In most cases damage was slight.

After discussing the future of their country with German leaders tomorrow the Rumanian statesmen will go to Rome to confer with Premier Mussolini and foreign minister Count Galeazzo Ciano.

After Von Ribbentrop sees the Rumanians, he will confer with the Bulgarian Premier and foreign minister, with special attention toBulgarian claims upon Rumania for South Dobruja.

Nazi Bombings Resumed After Night Of Quiet

No Aerial Attacks Made On Britain During Night, Is Report

FIVE NAZI PLANES ARE DOWNED TODAY

Hundred Planes In Battle As Attacks On Britain Are Renewed

By ROBERT G. NIXON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, July 25.—Five more German planes paid the penalty for attacking heavily fortified Britain today when Nazi raiders resumed activities against British shipping and home defenses after a night of quiet.

In a sudden revival of attempted "blitz" warfare, German planes swept over the southeast coast and attempted to bomb shipping even as new flights of bombers were reported over the southwest areas.

First reports told of no British losses in the air or damage on the ground, although 24 bombs were dropped inland during the southeast coast raid.

100 Planes In Combat

More than 100 British and German planes were aloft simultaneously at one time, engaged in spirited combat, but it appeared that anti-aircraft fire was most effective in bringing down the raiders.

The new raid on shipping began after a lone German reconnaissance plane had drawn a thin smoke-screen off the coast. Anti-aircraft guns immediately began a "zone fire" to cover the entire area, but the German attackers appeared in three waves of fifteen planes each.

Big Liner Sunk Some Weeks Ago British Report

(International News Service)

LONDON, July 25—The 16-243-ton Cunard-White Star liner Lancastria, once one of the most popular vessels on the Atlantic route, was sunk by German bombs off St. Nazaire, France, several weeks ago with a terrific loss of life, it was confirmed in London tonight.

Official circles disclosed that 5,300 persons, including refugees, women and children, were aboard the vessel.

Of this number, only 2,477 were known to have been rescued, although the list of survivors may grow.

Many of the Lancastria survivors, it was said, may have fallen into enemy hands. Hundreds swam or waded ashore after the ship sank.

The Lancastria went down at its anchorage off St. Nazaire soon after it had completed embarkation of personnel for evacuation.

And then we'll warble festive songs, and beat the tom toms and the drums but till that day the weather man just buzzes round and hums and hums.

Over Million Subject To Draft Call

State Would Provide Many

Plans Made For Call To Army Training If Congress Passes Law

FIRST CALL MAY COME THIS FALL

By RAYMOND WILCOVE
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, July 25—Approximately 1,030,000 men between the ages of 21 and 31 would be subject in Pennsylvania to the draft under the terms of the compulsory military training bill now under consideration by Congress, it was estimated today by the state department of military affairs.

These are the men, it was reported, who would be called up first for peacetime training. Of this number, roughly about 134,000 would be called up by October 1, 1941.

Under army plans, approximately 25,5000 civilians would be called into service by next October from Pennsylvania. A similar number would be selected next April and the remaining 63,000 by October 1941. Length of service would be one year and the pay $21 a month, the same as an army private.

Men with families and those employed in national defense work would probably be placed in the deferred draft group that between 31 and 45.

Best information is that if the army has its way only men between the ages of 21 and 30 inclusive, will be called into training, the belief being that this class will supply more than enough men. The army estimates that there are 11,500,000 men in this age group.

The draft machinery in Pennsylvania and in most other states patterned on that used in 1917-18 is ready to be placed in instant use and Major General Edward Martin, head of the militaryy affairs department and the Pennsylvania national guard, is prepared to submit it to Gov. Arthur H. James at any time.

vinced that the emergency requires conscription." He added that "it is not a question of actually calling up millions upon millions of men but of getting the nation's manpower registered and trained if it proves necessary."

The bill, designed to conscript 24,000,000 men between the ages of 21 and 45 for selective military training, was subjected to spirited debate among members as the senate military affairs committee expected to soon report it to the senate favorably, and the house military affairs committee continued public hearings.

Holt's move to place members of congress under the program was made when it was disclosed a similar motion by Minton was defeated by the senate committee.

Not Indispensable

"If we are going to conscript the nation's manpower in peace-time for military service," Holt said, "we ought to include the male members of congress. We are not indispensable to the nation. We could be spared for a year's military training."

Holt and Norris questioned the need at this time to discard voluntary training for conscription.

Asserting that an enemy, attempting to invade the United States, would first have to destroy our navy and air force, Norris said a standing army of 375,000 men would suffice as a nucleus for "the training of a greater army for defense."

"It does not take a lifetime to train a soldier to fight," Norris said. "The American soldiers in the World war, it is admitted, after a training in many cases of but a few months, were able to compete in all respects with the men who had been trained for a lifetime."

Norris said "the only possibility of the success of an invading army at the present time, or even in the near future, would be if Hitler succeeded in conquering England and securing the British navy."

He said that under the proposed program, if carried on for several years, "we would become warlike, and when we had become warlike, there would be no doubt but that we would soon be fighting with somebody."

that the speech yesterday by United States Ambassador George Messersmith, who emphatically denounced European dictatorship, asserting they menaced the security of the new world, was well received by all the Latin American delegates except the Argentinians.

Ever since the delegates gathered in Havana, it has been clear that Argentina would attempt to follow her traditional policy of refraining from inter-American commitments that might interfere with her European relations.

Four To Submit Resolutions

However, the second plenary session of the conference today will indicate the attitude of the various Latin American countries more clearly than hitherto, since this noon is the deadline for submission of proposals for action.

According to well informed quarters at least four nations will submit resolutions—Colombia, Bolivia, Argentina and Venezuela.

The United States already has submitted sweeping suggestions looking to economic and military defense against totalitarian penetration and calling for a "trusteeship" over colonies of defeated European nations in the western hemisphere to keep them from passing from one non-American power to another.

Hull and the Argentine delegate, Dr. Leopoldo Melo, held a conference late yesterday in an attempt to bring the two most powerful nations represented at the conference into agreement.

After this talk, sources close to Hull said that he appeared encouraged.

and his six children. The royal group from the tiny principality overrun by Germany arrived in the United States aboard the U. S. S. Trenton to take up temporary residence.

Denounces G. O. P. Demands

In advance of his meeting with Wallace, the president had denounced Republican demands that the Iowan should resign from the cabinet to make his vice-presidential run. Mr. Roosevelt rejected the opposition argument that Wallace should not be permitted to direct expenditure of large sums in farm benefits while making a national campaign. The chief executive pointed out that Herbert Hoover did not resign from the Coolidge cabinet in 1928, and said he could see no difference between spending forty or fifty million dollars in commerce department and spending two or three hundred millions in the agriculture department.

Before the end of the week Mr. Roosevelt plans to see Jim Farley and find out when his 1932 and 1936 campaign manager wants to retire as postmaster general. They also probably will discuss the New York outlook as Farley is retaining the Democratic state chairmanship and has promised to support the third term ticket. Farley is expected to assume the presidency of the New York Yankee baseball club on September 1.

The ship is also understood to have aboard medical supplies for the American legations in Norway, Sweden and Finland.

The American Legion was to have sailed for the Panama canal zone. The orders were suddenly changed yesterday, it was reported, and all through the night men were loading additional supplies aboard.

But forecaster J. Knarr said in Chicago: "There should be real relief tonight. A cool air mass from the west is due in Chicagoland, and the wind should shift to the east and northeast. After that I think temperatures will be moderate for several days."

Forecasts for such states as Michigan, Wisconsin, the Dakotas, Iowa and Nebraska, which bore the brunt of the heat yesterday, also were for cooler today or tonight.

Relief Is Promised

Relief from the excessive humidity was promised in the east by weather forecasters. Thunder showers were expected to materialize. However, a temperature of about 85 was predicted in New York City compared to a miximum of 80 yesterday.

Temperatures of 109, occurring in Arizana and Nebraska, were the highest officially reported for yesterday, but an unofficial high of 120 degrees was reported for McCook, Neb., the home of U. S. Senator Geo. W. Norris.

Another unofficial reading placed the temperature in Long Pine, Neb. at 116, while Omaha set an all-time record for July 24 with a temperature of 107. Lincoln, Neb., the capital, sweltered in 110-degree heat, and Freemont and Omaha were forced to restrict water usage by a threatened shortage.

Italian chasers which were opposing an enemy attempt to raid Bardia. One Italian plane did not return to its base.

"In East Africa one enemy plane was brought down at Massawa and Italian planes bombed trains and deposits at Dhedaref in the Sudan. "One Italian submarine failed to return to its base."

Air Raid And Sky Battle

Cairo, July 25.—A heavy British air raid on Italian ammunition supplies and sky battles in which five enemy planes were shot down were described in a British Royal Air Force communique today.

It stated that R. A. F. bombers, escorted by gladiator fighting planes, destroyed part of the Bardia ammunition dump.

A large formation of enemy fighters attacked the British planes, but four of the Italian machines were shot down and one was damaged, the communique said.

"All our bombers returned but one of our fighters is missing," it added.

"Another raid damaged the Macaaca airdrome.

London, July 25.—Britain's Mediterranean stronghold of Malta was bombed twice yesterday, causing slight damage but no casualties," a Reuters (British) dispatch said today.

Alexandria, July 25.—The British naval base of Alexandria was bombed sporadically today. No damage was reported.

BACK AFTER 20 YEARS MUFFLEY FINDS MUCH TO ENTHUSE ABOUT

Y. M. C. A. camp out on the Slippery Rock creek, which he has heard mentioned in many sections in his travels over the nation.

"The Fred L. Rentz camp is very impressive. It is one of the best equipped camps of this type in the country. Throughout the summer camp the Y. M. C. A. is able to render perhaps the finest service. I am glad that my friend of many years made this splendid camp possible," said Mr. Muffley.

Continuing, he said: "It is good to see the improvements in New Castle. The David Jameson hospital, Scottish Rite Cathedral and The Castleton hotel are noticeable, useful additions to the city. The beautiful residence districts with well paved streets, trees and shrubs, add to the beauty of the city and it is a notable improvement. The development of the Shenango Pottery and its splendid product, and the New Castle News building are institutions of which the city can be proud.

"In these times of international uncertainty it is encouraging to find the people of New Castle like the citizens of other cities, earnestly and honestly trying to solve their own social and economic problems. I find the people everywhere are deeply interested in the coming election and very appreciative of its importance to the future of our country," Mr. Muffley concluded.

Our armament isn't impressive, but it must astonish the world the way our big guns shoot off their mouths.

had yet been in the current heat wave. Last summer's heat wave was just starting in a year ago today, when the thermomter rose to 94 degrees. There was only a few days to it, however. Then in August the mercury just got over 90 for a few days."

A rather unique and friendly gesture was noted on an Adams street perch Wednesday afternoon. At the side of the door where the mail box is usually found, was a burnt wood box, approximately six inches square, with a slot in the top, and a little door on hinges. It was decorated with an outline of a bird, and the following wording: "If when you call and do not find us, please drop a note, and remind us."

Three little kiddies on the East Side ranging from two to four years in age, were bickering in their childish fashion, while sitting on the stone steps, as to how to raise a penny for a lollypop each. A parked driver overhearing the conversation, and getting quite a kick out of it at the same time, took them by surprise when he said: "Here you are, three pennies, one for each, so you can get a lollypop, but go ask your mothers first, and watch the crossings."

Newspapers are wonderful things, serving many known and unknown purposes, always serving as a source of first hand information. This morning, early Pa Newc watched an aged itinerant walking up East Washington street loaded down with with two leather knapsacks, two wicker baskets, one large overcoat, one pair of shoes fastened around his shoulders by a long rope and one paper bundle. Suddenly he stopped and cautiously liifted all his bundles to the sidewalk and walking to the gutter, picked up a paper, evidently discarded by somebody this morning. Taking a seat along the edge of the sidewalk, he stopped and read several pages of the press record of recent happenings in the world and when he was finished, neatly folded the paper and added it to his other bundles, which he re-arranged on his back and again resumed his long journey. He probably meant to scan it again when he had more time.

Over-eating in this torrid weather will bring non-happy results, as was experienced by a group of local women who journeyed to a picnic and swimming spot on Wednesday evening for an outing, but could not swim all evening as they had eaten too much food during their picnic period. They spent the time sitting along the sides of the pool, looking very dejected and watching the other swimmers.

The library has a new book now ready for circulation that is of timely interest to young people. The book, "So You Are Going To College", would be found of interest to anyone planning to enter school this fall. A feature of the book is a listing of all the colleges and other educational institutions in the country.

Mrs. Ralph Bonafiglio and Mrs. Frank Derr of South street, report witnessing a pathetic incident, while returning from Hillsville, Wednesday afternoon. A motorist had killed a male dog which was running along the road with its female companion. The female stood guard over the body of the slain animal, and occasionally made a frantic effort to drag it to the side of the road.

Queer, but true, is the fact that if some persons do not know the temperature reading, they are not bothered by the heat. But just pass out the mercury report to them and they become immediately concerned over themselves and the weather.

The pumpers on the city fire trucks are being tested out and put in good condition by City Mechanic Chris Walker. Pumping was done this morning from the Neshannock creek, at the foot of Mercer street, and from the Shenango river in the rear of Sampson street.

A CHECK WITHOUT FUNDS

THERE was at least one distinguished Frenchman who neither accepted the capitulation to Germany, nor fled to some other country to escape it. Dr. Thierry de Martel, rated as most distinguished of French surgeons, who had promised to remain at his post in Paris, was trapped there by the invaders.

Believing that the Germans would commandeer his services, he committed suicide. In a message to Ambassador Bullitt, written just before his death, he said: "If I stay in Paris alive, it is like putting a signed check in the enemy's hands. If I stay in Paris dead, it is a check without funds."

One of the fruits of the forces of persecution and destruction unleashed in Europe has been thousands of suicides of men and women who have preferred death to living under the conditions imposed upon them. The only things that distinguished Dr. Martel from the general run of these unfortunates, is that he was a man of great eminence, and managed to give his self-destruction a touch of triumph over the enemy.

BETTER GET THAT RED STICKER

The hurry-up call from Harrisburg to all motorists to have their cars inspected before July 31 ought not to have been necessary. For their own safety the thousands who have neglected this precaution should have taken it long ago.

Inspection frequently discloses dangerous defects that can easily be remedied. The uninspected car may be a serious menace to the driver as well as to the public. Pennsylvania was among the first states to institute this rule and, notwithstanding the assertion that many inspections are hasty and superficial, there is no question that the plan has helped to reduce the number of accidents.

That many cars still lack the red sticker on the windshield is a matter of daily observation. The penalties provided for non-compliance are just, and it is announced, will be strictly enforced. But an additional reason for action without delay is that a last-minute inspection may show the need for repairs that will keep a car off the streets, thus causing serious inconvenience to an owner that could so easily have been avoided.

WPA WORK FOR DEFENSE

Recent statements by Colonel Harrington, Federal WPA administrator, that the WPA is being adapted more and more to the advancement of the defense program are encouraging to the nation. There can be no criticism of the importance of these purposes and no question of the value of the results that can be accomplished if Colonel Harrington carrier out his announced plan to put 600,000 men to work on projects linked intimately with national defense.

WPA workers are already busy on the repair, maintence and construction of military air bases. They are constructing and will construct new barracks where Army expansion makes such barracks needed. They are working on roads and bridges leading to military reservations, and all over the country they are improving facilities for Regular Army and National Guard training.

For a long period it has been found necessary to employ many WPA workers on projects of questionable value in order that they might be qualified for relief payments. Now, however, there are large and vital tasks ahead and this source of labor can be utilized to great advantage in preparing the nation for whatever the future may hold in the way of emergency or crisis.

MORE DEADLY THAN BOMBERS

When a bomber of a warring nation destroys important industries and kills helpless people, it causes public consternation and determination to correct the evil.

Minor news items in Oregon in two days reported death and destruction by fire which puts the average bomber to shame. For instance, three children were trapped and burned to death in an upstairs bedroom in their home and a neighbor was injured in attempting their rescue. Fire swept through and virtually destroyed a logging community comprised of homes and an abandoned sawmill. Another blaze destroyed a seed experimental plant and canned milk to the value of $150,000. A fourth fire swept through a railroad siding at a cost of $75,000. A fifth fire burned a sawmill at a cost of $40,000, leaving 80 employes jobless.

That's better than the average record of death and destruction caused by a modern bomber, and yet it is simply the report of the fires in one sparsely settled state for two days. Multiply that record by 48 states and increase it in proportion to population, and you have an idea of what the enemy, Fire, is costing this nation. If bombers caused as much damage, the loss would be blazoned in the headlines across the land.

While insurance covers some of the material loss from fire, it cannot replace the 10,000 lives that it wipes out annually, or the thousands of jobs that are destroyed, loss of business or priceless possessions.

As every citizen pays in some way or other when fire strikes, every citizen should be vitally interested in fire prevention. During dry summer months every effort should be made to eliminate fire hazards and control fire.

It would be resassuring if man were reverting only to the ape. The ape pitches nothing more deadly than the cocoanut.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

KINDNESS CURBS UNRULY BOY

While conducting forums with teachers, parents and religious leaders, for a week, in Birmingham, Ala., I met Mr. F. L. Kelly, an elementary school principal of that city. He is also president of the Teachers Association of Birmingham.

Among the interesting things Mr. Kelly told me was that of Herbert, a first grade boy who landed in the office ten times for fighting during the first term. At promotion this boy, Herbert, was listed as one of the failures. Tests showed that he had average ability.

"The new term began with new altercations and repeated attacks on the second term beginners who were also in his section. He improved in his fighting ability but in little else. Finally in early February, in utter desperation, I applied corporal punishment to the culprit in the hope that this might help. The boy was no sooner gone than my conscience began to hurt and I immediately called my superior and checked out to Herbert's home.

Unhappy Background

"On arrival I found the father drunk and the mother trying to do for the other three children who were all younger than Herbert. After a careful interview with the mother I found that the father's job was gone and that the family was dependent for its very existence on the relief check of $15 which they got monthly.

"On returning to the school I called the social service chairman of the P. T. A., and needless to say the boy went home that afternoon with some clothes that could be changed. Herbert was given a bottle of milk at 10 o'clock and a hot lunch at noon. In a few days the results began to show. He suddenly seemed to turn over a new leaf in his book of behavior. He was always anxious to speak to me or to pat me as he passed. I had been transformed from the big bad wolf to the head man in Herbert's estimation.

The Finest Gift

"February came and went. March arrived and with it the earliest of flowers, the dandelion, began to pop out of their sleeping places. One morning Herbert showed up in the office and when the registrar asked him what he could do for him he replied, 'I want to see Mr. Kelly'. Herbert was ushered in and I turned and looked at him carefully. When I asked, 'What can I do for you, Herbert?' he replied, 'I brung you something,' with which he thrust out his little hand and offered a half-crushed dandelion wrapped in a piece or brown paper. I accepted it and before I could open my mouth the boy was gone on the dead run. I sat amazed and held the dandelion—the more I considered it, the more valuable it became. It was worth more than all the hot house roses ever grown.

"Herbert is now my boy. He was regularly promoted in June and again this January. I shall watch his progress with much interest."

Solving Parent Problems

Q. Please suggest a good plan for keeping children off the street at night.

A. As soon as your child can toddle, see that he comes directly into the house when the street lights go on. Hold rigidly to this rule till he is in his 'teens or past.

Just Folks

By EDGAR A. GUEST

MAN

We know a little (see the printed books)
Of birds and beasts and sun and moon and stars.
Science has followed oceanward the brooks
And thinks it has some facts concerning Mars.
We've learned some truths of nature's mighty plan.
But oh we know so little about man!

We know the sort of food man eats and drinks.
We know the facts he lets us find and see,
But cannot learn just what our neighbor thinks
Or what it is he has the power to be.
We see the failure cruelly assailed,
But never learn exactly why he failed.

Much about birds we've come to understand,
Their fixed instinctive habits and their skills.
Their lives, we've found, are marvelously planned,
But they are changeless as the ancient hills.
But man, urged on by fame or power or pelf,
Is still a ghostly mystery to himself.

Behind him countless vanished others lie.
He walks the earth the sum of all that's past.
This weakness shows (he never knows just why),
This bit of merit proves his worth at last.
But is the strength or weakness all his own?
That is the mystery, never to be known.

"But," interposed the critic, "the workers are not laboring very hard."

"That," said the artist triumphantly, "is why the picture is so realistic."

PLUMBER'S CONSCIENCE

Plumbers do not mind having gags told on them. So we tell one about a local plumber. It happened several years back. A new assistant was looking on while a plumber was working.

"Say," inquired the assistant, "does the boss charge for my time?"

"Certainly," was the reply.

"But I haven't done anything."

The plumber had been inspecting the finished job with a lighted candle, which he handed to his helper. "Here," he said, "if you've got to be so conscientious, blow that out."

There are two places that are easy to get into. One is the jail and the other is the hospital. All one has to do is to lay down on the street and act unconscious and the police will decide the place you should be sent to.

And by the way, what has become of our old friend Aimee McPherson. She hasn't even gotten married lately.

There's an old editorial saying, "If the shoe fits, put it on" And there are times when folks try to put the shoe on, even if it doesn't exactly fit. We once printed a paragraph saying, "Women spend more time playing bridge than in doing housework."

NOT CRAZY

The superintendent of the loony house called back to his clerk one day and asked about a certain inmate.

"Make out his papers of release at once," said the superintendent, when he had the record on his desk.

"But he's crazy," objected the clerk. "Look at him out there now going along with his wheelbarrow upside down."

"That's what I thought until I talked to him," said the superintendent. "But when I asked him about it he said that every time he turned the wheelbarrow the other way someone filled it with heavy sand and cement."

OUT OF LUCK

Then there is that yarn about the financial wizard who always was inaccessible to the press. In time he made a mistake and got several years in the pen. The first day in the big house the newspaper reporters came to see him at his new job of rock-breaking.

"Some of the newspaper boys want to see you," the warden informed the one-time big shot.

"Tell 'em I'm out," said the ex-financier.

Good Taste

Pat. U. S. Patent Office

Last evening I heard an argument as to whether our Cinderella girls are more snobbish, as a class, than those born to riches. A man whose knowledge of human nature is rated very high opined that a survey taken among shopgirls and others dealing directly with the public would prove get-rich-quick women—especially poor girls who marry wealthy husbands—are apt to tyrranize over those who serve them far more than are women who never knew poverty. And by way of coincidence I did this morning observe in one of our exclusive shops a woman now married to the heir of a five million dollar fortune. I knew her when she had only her weekly salary as a salesgirl. Yet she had nothing but scorn for the very refined young woman who was striving hard to serve her from behind the counter—and who obviously was of a class much higher than the ex-salesgirl trying to play the part of a great lady; but flunking it terribly. After leaving the counter, she recognized me and gave vent to a long jeremiad as to the inefficiency and insubordination of salespeople and servants.

Readers' Questions Answered

Question: Please tell me how the wedding procession enters the church. I have a maid of honor, two bridesmaids, a best man and two ushers and my father will give me away. Who helps me with my veil and train? Is it permissible for my bridesmaids to wear consages on their gowns as they are carrying bouquets?—Bride.

Answer: The wedding party enters as follows: At the first sound of the wedding march, the bridegroom, the best man and the clergyman leave the vestry where they have been waiting for fifteen minutes and proceed to the altar rail where they await the bride's presence at the altar. The bridal party forms in the vestibule for the processional. As the wedding march begins, the ushers (same number as the number of bridesmaids) go to the rear of the church (having seated all of the guests) and head the processional. They march up the aisle two by two. Four paces behind come the bridesmaids also marching four paces apart. Next comes the maid-of-honor walking alone; then the flower girls (if any). At a double distance, comes the bride on her father's right arm. If there is a ring-bearer, he should walk between the maid-of-honor and the flower girls. If there is a page, he should follow the bride to hold up her train. The ring-bearer carries the ring on a white satin pillow.

The maid-of-honor should arrange your veil and train and hold your flowers during the ring-placing in the ceremony.

If your bridesmaids carry arm bouquets, they should not also wear corsages.

Hitler Faced With Difficult Task
Hard To Police Conquered Nations
Nine Countries Under German Rule

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, July 25.—Hints are reaching Washington that Herr Hitler is experiencing considerable difficulty in consolidating the Nazi dominance in all the countries they've been conquering so rapidly of late.

These stories are vague, of course, on account of the censorship, but they come from so many different sources, are so increasingly numerous and are in such general agreement that, by state departmental and army and navy officials, all of whom are receiving them, they're beginning to be quite widely credited.

The blitzkreig is almost incredibly and quickly effective, to be sure, but it has to be followed by a civil set-up to keep the vanquished populations in order, and working to the Germans' advantage.

Now, naturally these populations, although beaten, are in no pro-German frame of mind. They still have to be policed and coerced and everlastingly spied on, or it's a foregone conclusion that they'll turn outright rebellious at the first opportunity.

A country having been militarily defeated, Herr Hitler's system is to establish for it a government of its own citizens—but honest-to-goodness totalitarians, such as can be found in small numbers almost anywhere. It goes virtually without saying, however, that their own countrymen hate these functionaries, probably more than they hate even Germans. Morever, Adolf himself is suspicious of them; they require constant watching.

Himmler On The Job

So, as fast as a beaten country capitulates, Herr Himmler, chief of the German Gestapo, appears in its capital, and proceeds to organize a Nazi secret service.

This might be all right if Herr Himmler had only one or two countries to worry about.

But he has on his hands now Austria, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Denmark, Norway, Holland, Belgium, little Luxehburg and France.

This must spread the Gestapo pretty thin.

In short, it appears, Adolf has done his conquering so fast that he hasn't got his conquerees thoroughly conquered.

The Fuehrer is theatened with a problem somewhat like Japan's. The Japs can lick the Chinese at any given spot, but all of China won't Stay licked. The Nazis have a lot of eastern Europe, Scandinavia, the Low Countries and France temporarily Down but will they stay Out?

The question critics ask is:

"Although Adolf has taken off a tremendously big bite and is industriously and, up to date, quite successfully chewing it, can he finally swallow and assimilate it?"

There are skeptics.

More, Too

And even if he gets away with this bite the meal won't be finished.

Sweden, to be sure, wouldn't be much of an additional mouthful.

But Britain isn't disposed of yet.

Russia also shows signs of turning ugly.

Nor is Italy dependable. The Italians are capable of flopping out of a bargain with Germany. They did in the last World war. They were pledged then to help the kaiser. First they didn't do it. Then they actually went in on the other side. Wilhelm referred to them outright as "traitors."

Adolf obviously is gambling on Spain, but there Dictator Franco's tie-up with Il Duce Mussolini is a good deal closer than his relations with the Fuehrer. If Benito reneges on Hitler, Franco's likely to renege with him.

To Sum Up

Summing it all up there are plenty of competent observers who say that:

Adolf appears to be winning today.

They think he may Win—for the time being.

But they don't believe his triumph, if he scores one, will last long.

They compare him with Napoleon—and everybody knows how He ended.

Nevertheless, it'll be quite a record for that one-time house painter if he goes down in history as a second Napoleon—their respective finishes notwithstanding.

The Wallace Problem

WSHINGTON, July 25. WITH no desire to add to the troubles of Mr. Henry Wallace, Mr. Roosevelt's running mate on the third-term ticket, it is impossible not to discuss the propriety of his continuing in office as Secretary of Agriculture while running for the Vice-Presidency. The question has been raised and there are indications that it may become one of the minor issues of the campaign.

MR. WALLACE had a distressing experience at the convention. Personally, he is a likeable man of undoubted integrity and many fine qualities. He deserved better treatment, and the boos of the opposition were not really aimed at him personally. For three days the delegates had been led around with rings in their noses. A good many of them were resentful and sore. They were filled with a spirit of protest which they had had to bottle up. Mr. Wallace was the victim of circumstances. The determination of the President to jam him, feet first, down the throats of the delegates was more than they could stand. They, rather unfairly, took it out on Mr. Wallace.

THE definite effect has been to handicap him as a candidate. If now he persists in his determination not to resign as head of the Agricultural Department during the campaign he easily may be turned into a liability far more complete than the booing opposition predicted at the convention. Mr. Wallace excuses his intention to hold on to his job on the ground that Mr. Hoover did not resign as Secretary of Commerce while running for the Presidency. The comparison is not justified; the excuse is unsound.

IF Mr. Wallace had a job similar to the one Mr. Hoover had in 1928, the point probably would not be raised, though there is always room for questioning the property of a man holding on to one public position while asking election to another. Mr. Hoover did it in 1928; and others have done it before and since. But that does not make it right. The thing that puts the question of Mr. Wallace on a different basis is the unprecedented character of his job and the immense potential political power it carries. Never before has a government official had quite so much public money to distribute nor anything like so tremendous an

WAR SLAVES.

It is difficult to know exactly how Germany is treating the peoples of the countries which it has overrun.

A war correspondent has given the American public an idea of what has happened to the captured Belgian soldiers. They have been put to work in Germany. In ancient times all war captives were made slaves. The Roman legions brought back to Rome captives,—men and women and they were sold in the Market Place.

Hitler may be treating the captives made by the German legions in much the same way. It is safe to say that he is putting them to work in Czechoslovakia, Austria, Poland, Denmark, Norway, the Netherlands and finally now, in France. The alleged switch-over by France to a Dictatorship is scoffed at by Germany. The Fuehrer says it is too late. It does not mean anything to him whatever.

"Peace-at-any-price" Americans, if they are able to think and reason out matters, ought by this time to realize what it would mean if we did not get ready and get ready right. It is not necessary to have a great standing army in the United States, but it is necessary to train millions of Americans, men and women, in the strategy of war; particularly, young Americans of both sexes, that they may be called upon in an emergency and it is necessary to have arms and ammunition of all kinds for this army. Above all things, it is necessary to have a great number of trained aviators and mechanicians. This nation does not want to go to war. That is a trite saying, but this nation may have to go to war to preserve its integrity and if this emergency does come, it must be ready to win a war

More Officers For National Guards, Plan

Would Increase National Guard Officers In State 110 Over Present Personnel

CAVALRY TROOPS TO GET INCREASE

By JOHN PAGET
(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, July 25.—An increase of 110 officers in the Pennsylvania national guard, boosting commissioned personnel to regular army peacetime strength, was announced today by Major General Edward Martin.

This move, authorized by the secretary of war one week ago, raises the number of officers in the guard to 1040, not including 14 warrant officers. Enlisted men total 13,532.

In an order to General Martin, the war department urged the appointments be made at the "earliest practicable date". It was indicated that promotions would be announced before the Pennsylvania troops leave on Aug. 3 for weeks' training maneuvers in New York state.

More Officers

The added personnel, to be appointed from the ranks and from surplus officers, will be divided among 12 regiments.

Each of the four infantry regiments in the state, the 109th, Scranton; the 110th, Washington; the 111th, Philadelphia, and the 112th, Kane, will get 12 more officers.

The field artillery regiments, the 107th, Pittsburgh; 109th Wilkes-Barre, and the 166th, Philadelphia, will be supplemented by three officers.

The 103rd and 104th cavalry regiments at Tyrone and Harrisburg respectively, will be increased by 14 officers each.

The 213th anti-aircraft coast artillery regiment will get 10 more officers.

Will Increase Rank

In addition, orders received by General Martin provide for increasing the rank of battalion commanders in both infantry and artillery units from major to lieutenant colonel.

The war department orders also authorized the state's cavalry regiments, now composed of three squadrons of two troops each, to be reorganized into regiments of two squadrons of three troops effective October 1.

They also restored to the 28th division the post of divisional veterinarian which was abolished several years ago when the government began to streamline the army. The command carries the rank of major.

The war department's action in Pennsylvania followed the move to expand state national guard units to fill full peace time strength for mobilization in case of a national emergency.

Work On Totem Poles Progresses At Camp Phillips

Troop 37 Honors Retiring Scoutmaster Dr. R. C. Lutz In Camp Paper

Work on two large totem poles, being carved by Boy Scouts at Camp John M. Phillips, progressed quite rapidly even on Tuesday, when a hard shower drove the Scouts temporarily under cover.

Much energy and not a little engineering ability has been displayed by the Scouts in getting the necessary poles into the large barn-workshop, where the designs are being executed. The work of getting the poles placed after the carving is completed will be quite a feat, since no machinery of any kind is available. Handicraft of all kinds keeps the boys interested and busy during any inclement weather.

Troop 37 has distributed a midsummer issue of their troop paper, "Ki-Bo", published especially in honor of their retiring Scoutmaster, Dr. R. C. Lutz. "Doc's" picture, or a reasonable facsimile thereof, adorns the frontispiece, and letters from various members of the Kiwanis club, sponsor of Troop 37, give fine testimonials to his ability and his long and faithful service. Tributes from members of the troop show how large a place Doc has won in the hearts of the boys who have been under his leadership.

Extra privileges to use the boats are given as a reward to the cabin having the highest rating for neatness at inspection time and rivalry is keen.

The Great Game Of Politics

organization of pay-roll and part-pay-roll employes operating under his direction.

BETWEEN now and election day, hundreds of millions of dollars will be distributed to farmers in every State in the country by Mr. Wallace's agents. A "gentle rain" of checks from Mr. Wallace will descend upon the "tillers of the soil" during the next four months while he campaigns across the country. During the present fiscal year Mr. Wallace's department will pay out $500,000,000 in benefit payments under the so-called soil-conservation program and over $200,000,000 in the so-called farm-parity payments. Added to the money which will be loaned for rural electrification, for "rehabilitation" of farm families and for financing purchases of farm lands by tenant farmers. Mr. Wallace's department's direct outpouring this fiscal year will be not far from one and a half billion dollars.

THIS is a stupendous sum. No candidate running for office anywhere at anytime was ever in a position to distribute any such public largess during a campaign. No one wants to reflect upon Mr. Wallace's character or charge that he calculatingly would use the immense power which this money gives him to promote his own political fortunes. But neither he nor any other man should be in position where it is possible to do that. It is against public policy that he should be in such a position and one would think that Mr. Wallace, sensitive man as he is, would not want to occupy that position—in fact, would insist upon retiring rather than give rise to charges such as are sure to be made.

BECAUSE the fact is that however aloof Mr. Wallace may keep himself and however innocent he may personally be of "intent to influence" the voters, his numerous aides, his multitudinous publicity directors and all the vast machinery from assistant secretaries on down to the county committees will be concentrated in seeing that these hundreds of millions of dollars are "timed" so as to be most effective and the "gentle rain of checks" falls on the right people. They would not be human if this were not so. Naturally, the basic motive of the thousands of employes under Mr. Wallace is to perpetuate themselves in office.

WITH him as the department head they need no word or direction as to what to do. So far as it can be done, the full weight of the agricultural department is going to be used to promote the success of the Roosevelt-Wallace ticket, and everybody in the department is going to cooperate in that effort. Neither the Hatch Act nor any other act will prevent it. There is no way to stop it, but one would suppose Mr. Wallace would rather not be at the head of the department while the work is being done. Particularly, one would suppose so, when his continuation as secretary will lend such color to the charges that more political damage than benefit may result. There is an additional reason for Mr. Wallace's resignation. The great place he occupies is certainly a full-time job. If he spends the next three months campaigning, how is he going properly to conduct the affairs of his department? And if he does not run it himself, who will?

Football players have been known to lose 30 pounds in a single game.

No More Waking Feeling Dizzy

MR. RAY R. LYLE, 5 Plum Street, Warren, Penna., says, "I used to awaken every morning feeling dizzy, tired, achy, no energy to start work and a disgust for breakfast. I took Vendol a while and it relieved constipation so thoroughly that all the other troubles passed off and I feel fine now."

If you suffer from upset stomach, gas, sourness, belching, "heartburn," so nervous you can't sleep, biliousness, headaches, spots before your eyes, bad complexion, pains in your arms, shoulders, back or limbs and other symptoms when they are due to constipation or need of a mild kidney diuretic, take Vendol and see how quickly this alkaline extract of Roots and Herbs will give relief. All over this state reliable citizens are praising Vendol, so why don't you get this same relief, too?

LOVELY FAREWELL FOR MRS. PERRINE

One of the loveliest "going away" parties of the season, was that given Wednesday evening by Mrs. Clarence Jarrett and Miss Lila V. Henshaw; who entertained jointly at the latter's home on Lincoln avenue, to honor Mrs. Floyd Perrine, who has moved to Pittsburgh.

The occasion was in the form of a bridge, and it was so cleverly planned, in every detail, that the extreme heat was forgotten with cooling punch being served at intervals which was as attractive as it was tasty. Lunch which featured the later hours, was unique and tempting. With the guests seated at one long table, their eyes were centered on the originated "Perrine Railroad Station." It was a miniature of a railway center with tracks carrying tiny town trains, and showing tiny town folks dashing to trains, with red caps taking their bags, amidst a setting of real moss with living bits of fern, set off with midget lighted lamp posts. Place favors were airplane luggage in miniature, filled with candies and nuts.

Preceding the serving, attention was given to contract bridge, with honor prizes falling to Mrs. Raymond McCartney and Mrs. Robert Vogan.

In rounding out the evening, the honoree was presented with a lovely farewell remembrance from the hostesses, Mrs. Jarrett and Miss Henshaw.

HIGHLAND U. P. CLASS HAS KNITTING PARTY

At an appropriate hour the hostess, assisted by her mother, Mrs. C. H. Milholland, served a dainty lunch.

Caroline Ross of New York City was a special guest.

Merchants Ask Council To Act

Retail Merchants of this city today petitioned council at a meeting in city hall to eliminate "broadcasting" through loud-speakers. Upon recommendation of Finance Director James L. Fink the petition was referred for study to a council committee.

At present, there is a city ordinance which permits the issuance of a license to use a sound wagon, or other similar effect, for $5.00 a day.

Recently, it was said that such tactics had incurred the displeasure of some merchants and they decided to consult council.

The outcome was today's petition asking that reproductions of sound through megaphones, amplifiers, etc., be eliminated.

Seven New Ships Acquired By Navy

Comprise Part Of 27-Vessel Fleet Being Formed As Auxiliary Fleet

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, July 25—The Navy has acquired seven of the 27 vessel-fleet that it is forming as an auxiliary force, and two of the ships are rapidly being converted to rush marine expeditionary forces to any point in case of an emergency, Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox announced today.

The two expeditionary vessels are the erstwhile President Grant and President Jackson. These vessels will be renamed the U. S. S. Harris and the U. S. S. Zeilan, both for former commandants of the marine corps.

The other five ships which have been acquired are the 7700 ton Sea Arrow, just completed by the Maritime Commission at a cost of $3,000,000; the Santa Barbara and Santa Maria, from the Grace lines; the Mormacpenn, 7800 tons, also a new ship, from the Maritime Commission, and the Iroquois, a 6200 ton vessel acquired from Aquilines.

New Seaplane Tender

The Sea Arrow, which will be renamed U. S. S. Tangier, will be converted into a seaplane tender; the Barbara and Maria as yet unnamed will become transports; the Mormacpenn, also as yet unnamed, will become a submarine tender and the Iroquois, redubbed the Solace for the famous Spanish-American war vessel, will become a hospital ship.

Knox said that in its huge building program the Navy will cooperate closely "with those who are intimately acquainted with the unemployment problem."

Knox disclosed that he and Sidney Hillman, national defense council member in charge of labor training, had canvassed the labor situation and evolved a plan to meet expected shortages of skilled craftsman.

Knox also announced that northwestern University has made available facilities for the annual training of 1,200 naval reserve midshipmen, the first course at Northwestern to begin on September 16.

Knox said further that the U. S. S. Illinois stationed at New York, will also be utilized for the schooling of middies and that tentative arrangements have been made for additional accommodations at UCLA (Los Angeles and Tulane University in Louisiana.

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. When they get tired and don't work right in the daytime, many people have to get up nights. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't neglect this condition and lose valuable, restful sleep.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may also cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

At Last!
A deodorant cream that really prevents perspiration odors and keeps the arm-pits soft, and smooth. Amolin Cream is delicate in texture... pleasant in fragrance... without medicinal odor.

New Castle Store Outing Wednesday

Torrid Sun Beats Down As Employes Romp At El Rio Beach

MANY FEATURES ADD TO PROGRAM

One hundred and fifty places around two huge picnic tables on the tree-shaded lawn at El Rio beach (along Neshannock creek) were filled Wednesday evening when employes and officials of The New Castle Store sat down to their annual picnic dinner.

The outdoor feast featured a celebration that opened under the toasting mid-afternoon sun and continued until late at night. Sports of all kinds, swimming and contests of a competitive nature filled the afternoon while bingo, roller skating and dancing were popular at night.

The store closed for the outing at 3 in the afternoon—and business, for the day, was entirely forgotten.

Sharing the festivities with employes were several family members. Little Audrey Jean Martin, just three, who accompanied her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Martin, was the youngest romping about.

General chairman for the day was Harry J. Culliford, who officiated as contests were run off. Able committees worked with him to make the outing one of the best ever in the store's history.

Mushball games between the married and single men and married and single girls inaugurated the sports program in the afternoon. The single men, with Bob Davis pitching won out over their opponents, 12 to 11, only after an extra inning of play. Dorothy Klaber pitched the single girls to a more impressive victory, 9 to 2.

Other winners:

Tug-of-war—The single men outpulled the married men and the single women won over over the married girls.

Shoe race, Lois Shaddock and Bud DeGarmo; balloon race for children, Billy Montgomery; sack race, Irene Lowman and H. J. Culliford; ball throwing contest, Edna Armour won for the ladies and Billy Cox for the men.

General Chairman Culliford's chief aides were:

Eats—Mrs. Pearl Douglass, chairman; Mrs. Bessie Ramsey, Mrs. Vera Cox, Mrs. Louise Zeigler, Miss Elsie Warner and Miss Beryl Thomas.

Sports—Frank Perry, chairman; Henry Snyder, Willis Shallenberger, Ray McAuley, Reed McCaskey and John McCarty.

Prizes—Miss Marian Chambers and Walter Conover.

Couple Returning To Homes From Finland To Speak At Finnish Church Tonight

Hitch-hiking their way to their homes in Montana and San Francisco, Cal., from New York, Messrs. Kallio and Stewart, who just recently returned to this country from Finland, are stopping in this city and will speak this evening on the Finnish relief program in the Finnish Lutheran church.

Their talks will be in English and the program will begin at 8 o'clock. Messrs Kallio and Stewart have first-hand information regarding the war and conditions in Finland today. While there, Kallio was a member of the ski patrol.

Rev. Einar W. Lehto, pastor of the church, will also speak during the program.

TWO ACCIDENTS THIS AFTERNOON

Two motor accidents were reported to have occurred about 1 o'clock this afternoon, one at Portersville and the other on the Sampson street Harbor bridge road.

On the Sampson street-Harbor road, a motorist, driving a car toward Harbor bridge sustained a laceration of the head when his auto skidded into a pole.

At Portersville a man and woman were injured and required treatment by a physician.

USE ULTRA-VIOLET RAYS TO PRODUCE TENDERIZED MEAT

(International News Service)

CHICAGO—Meat packers can't chew up steaks for their customers, but they are beginning to do the next best thing.

They use ultra-violet rays, high humidity and alternately high and low temperature to break down tough tissues to produce a "tenderized" meat.

Dr. D. M. Coulter of the Mellon Institute explained the new process, saying:

"Tenderization hastens the natural breakdown of the normally tough connective tissues in beef. This is done at high temperatures and humidity in an atmosphere kept free from mould spores and bacteria by rays of the sterilamp developed by Westinghouse scientists."

EARNS LIVING AS MAILMAN AFTER LOSING FORTUNE

LONDON—Sir John Stuart Knill, who once possessed a 2000-acre estate and an income of $200,000 a year, is now earning his living as a mailman.

Fifty-four years of age, tall and bearded, Sir John is the son and grandson of former Lord Mayors of London. Since he lost his money some years ago he has been employed as a road sweeper and ran a junk stall at the famous Caledonian Market in London.

For delivering letters he now earns between $10 and $15 a week.

"I'm proud of my job," he once said. Darned if I'm not, when I think of the life of luxury I used to lead."

PANAMA SEEKS FREE PORT TO HALT SMUGGLING

(International News Service)

PANAMA CITY, R. P.—Dr. Augusto S. Boyd, president of the Republic of Panama, has suggested that a free port of entry for the republic be established to solve the problem of coping with the smuggling of products from United States operated Canal Zone commissaries into Panama.

The chief executive said he believes the Bay of Panama should be filled in and a free port for the country established. He said he believed the project would cost about $15,000,000 but that it would pay $20,000,000 in return.

The problem of preventing smuggling of all sorts of products ranging from food products to cigarettes into Panama from the Canal Zone has long been a worry to the little republic. An example of the temptation to smuggle goods from the zone to Panama can be understood in the comparison of prices of cigarettes. Cigarettes in the Canal Zone for employes cost from six to eight cents a pack, while in Panama the prices are 15 and 20 cents a pack.

The court house fishermen usually come back with nothing more than tales of their prowess but the turtle hunters bring them back alive. County Commissioner George H. Bolinger and Deputy County Controller Andrew Dodds needed some soup stock this week and went turtle hunting at the Harbor bridge. They found what is thought to be the grand daddy of all turtles in Lawrence County, a whopper weighing about 20 pounds.

For safe keeping they put it in the station wagon and then had to make a trip with Building Superintendent Clifford James driving. Cliff turned around and saw the turtle making for him. Stopping the wagon he baled out and said he wasn't driving any vicious marine monsters around if he could help it. Dodds explained that the turtle merely wanted his autograph but James refused to drive any more. Dodds finished the trip. Now for the soup.

The red rose border on the County Line street side of the court house addition is a picture these days. Every bush seems to be loaded.

Clearance Denied To Two Oil Tankers

U. S. Seeking To Halt Transshipment Of Oil To Germany, Is Belief

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, July 25—Formation of a new U. S. policy apparently aimed at Blocking oil trans-shipments to Germany came to light today when the treasury department's office of merchant shipments denied clearance to two tankers at Port Arthur, Tex., loaded with oil for Spain.

The vessels, the Aryan and the Nevada, both operated by the Texas Co., were said to be loaded with approximately 200,000 barrels of oil.

A month ago, the Maritime commission took a similar step when it denied an application for a temporary transfer of charter on three tankers sought by a Spanish company for oil shipments to Spain.

Says Coal Prices Due For Advance

Local Coal Dealer Forsees Higher Prices When Guffey Coal Bill Is Effective

According to C. C. Sweesy, of the Lawrence County Coal Dealers Association, the price of coal is due for a sharp advance when the Guffey Coal Act becomes effective on September 3. Prices were advanced 25 cents per ton this week by the coal operators, and an additional advance is indicated on September 3, Sweesy stated.

He also indicated that coal would likely be hard to get next month, due to the fact that the big industries will have most of the coal cars tied up, buying in advance of the price raise, so that retail dealers will have a hard time getting delivery on their orders.

After the buying splurge is over, coal will be more plentiful but also higher priced, he said.

U. S. Industry To Supply 3000 Planes Monthly To Britain

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, July 25.—The United States has agreed to a British proposal that American industry supply 3,000 military airplanes monthly for Great Britain, Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau asserted today.

Morgenthau said high government officials told the British purchasing mission the United States will study methods of placing orders and obtaining deliveries, which would begin by January 1941.

NAZI BOMBINGS RESUMED AFTER NIGHT OF QUIET

The individual units were comprised of six bombers and nine fighters.

The Germans raced into position, but remained at an altitude of 12,000 feet to drop their bombs. Great fountains of water spurted into the air and smoke from exploding bombs broke over the vessels. The bombs were dropped from so great a height that 24 carried inland.

Scatter Attackers

Anti-aircraft batteries scattered the initial attackers, but another two waves of German bombers came in. By this time, British spit-fires had taken to the air and the Nazis fled, with the R. A. F. in pursuit and the skies filled with smoke from exploding anti-aircraft shells.

Anti-aircraft gunners trained their fire on individual planes from the scattered formations, while Royal Air Force planes engaged their opponents in twisting, diving dog-fights.

Reliable estimates said that between 75 and 80 German planes were engaged in the attack.

Previously, diminution of German activity during the night had been linked with announcement of 1,000 separate British attacks upon German-occupied territory within the past three months.

Power Of Nazis Cut

The inference was that the terrific British raids may have played a signal role in cutting down the striking power of the Nazi air force. The British forays included 161 raids on industrial points, 229 on airdromes, 258 on military objectives, 275 on enemy communications and 66 on warship anchorages.

Except for appearance on a number of German planes over southeastern England, there was no repetition of yesterday's intensive Nazi activity over the British Isles, although between 75 and 80 German bombers, operating in two waves, launched a futile attack on shipping off the southeast coast shortly after noon.

Bombs were dropped but no hits were scored and the raiders were driven off by anti-aircraft fire even before British fighting planes could go into action.

One of the attacking bombers was shot down in the southwestern part of the channel.

German raiders kept entirely clear of the British Isles during the night.

Using American Planes

It was the first time since large-scale air attacks against Britain began that no raiders had appeared throughout an entire night.

Late this morning, however, a number of German planes appeared over southwestern England. Nazi raiders also attacked a shipping convoy in the North Sea during the morning but escorting warships sent up an anti-aircraft barrage which drove off the raiders without suffering a loss.

Early today the air ministry revealed that the Germans are using American warplanes captured in France in attacks upon Britain., Recounting 25 hours of fighting around Britain's coast, the ministry disclosed that two fleets of American Chance-Vought dive - bombers, piloted by Germans, were engaged in combat by British spitfires.

One of the American-made ships was shot down into the English Channel, the communique said. It was among 14 German planes shot down yesterday. Four British planes were lost, two while bombing German objectives and two in defense of Britain.

The American planes were described as the Chance-Vought 156 type, believed to be similar to some United States naval dive-bombers.

(These ships are described by "Jane's All the World's Aircraft" as 2-seater scout bomber biplanes fitted with 750-horsepower Pratt and Whitney engines. They are combined scouting and bombing planes.)

The air ministry said that yesterday British fighters and anti-aircraft batteries were constantly beating off many types of planes, including "even new American aircraft which the Germans captured from the French."

Forty-Six Die In Bomb Raid Made On Haifa

(International News Service)

HAIFA, Palestine, July 25—Britain's port and naval base of Haifa counted a toll of 46 killed and 88 wounded—most of them civilians—today and 10 enemy bombers raided the city in its second bombing attack of the war.

The raiders, presumably Italian planes, struck heavily at the city yesterday morning, according to an official announcement.

The first raid of Haifa occurred July 15.

Nearly 100 bombs dropped on the Haifa region during the attack. British spokesman claimed the raiders attacked non-military objectives and that this was responsible for the high percentage of civilian casualties.

Two Arab fishermen were killed when one bomb struck their vessel in the sea. Anti-aircraft batteries finally drove off the raiders.

The way to detect fifth columnists is first to exclude all the people who look as though they might be guilty.

Dr. Dafoe's Column On The Quintuplets And The Care Of Your Children

(Copyright, 1940, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

IMPROPER DIVING MAY CAUSE SINUSITIS

I once knew a woman who lived beside a small river. During the summer she would put her small children to play in the stream and leave them there most of the day. That was her way of getting the children off her hands. Personally, I am in favor of children swimming in the summer. I think every child should learn to swim. But I do think this woman overdid it.

Bathing is a very healthy sport for children—for grown-ups too, for that matter. For one thing, their bodies get abundance of sunshine. It is marvelous exercise, too, for when you are swimming you use nearly every muscle in your body. Haven't you noticed how the best swimmers always have such fine bodies?

I think every child should learn to swim as early as possible; the earlier they learn, the easier it is.

Once they learn, they never lose the knack. A friend of mine, who declared he hadn't been swimming for fifteen years, dumped out of a boat. Regardless of the fact that he was fully clothed and han't had any swimming for so long, he got to shore.

One of my great regrets is that I never learned to swim. I used to go and paddle about in the lake near my old home but no one ever showed me how to strike out and swim, and I never picked it up myself. But I made sure that my boy Bill learned. He has won several medals.

There are a few simple rules parents should follow in connection with their children's swimming this summer. Young children shouldn't stay in the water for longer than half an hour—less on cool days.

Diving is good fun, and sooner or later children will try it. Teach them how to dive properly, and make sure they understand the danger of diving into strange water where rocks may be hidden right under the surface.

Some children should never dive. Those with heart conditions, disturbed circulation or lung weakness of any kind shouldn't attempt it. Nor should anyone, child or adult, dive when they have had infections of the ears or sinuses. Diving places pressure on these parts, and floods them with water under force. This sometimes causes inflammation in organs that are not strong.

But worse than any amount of diving is the habit of jumping into the water feet first. Be sure and warn your children not to do it. Water under great pressure rushes up the nose and floods the frontal sinus; it often causes sinusitis.

Tomorrow—Poison Ivy.

Want Public To See Cascade Theater

A cordial invitation to the New Castle public to "drop in" at Cascade park's new open-air theatre during the Provincial players' evening rehearsals of "Boy Meets Girl" was extended by the dramatic group today.

The new playhouse was formerly the Fun House. Nearly 40 workmen —Relief Work Projects men——put the place in condition and now New Castle can boast of a summer showhouse.

"Boy Meets Girl" will be given August 7 to 10. Critics have rated the play one of the best portraying the rapid life of Hollywood.

ROBERT CHAMBERLAIN FLIES AIRPLANE SOLO

Robert Chamberlain of 215 Sumner avenue, flew solo at the New Castle airport Wednesday for the first time.

Chamberlain has been taking instruction for sometime and just completed the required eight hours of dual flight instruction. The solo hops were made in the Cub Trainer belonging to Findley C. Wilson.

Young People To Picnic Next Week

Conference Picnic Of County Sunday Schools At New Wilmington August 1

The conference picnic for the young people of the Lawrence County Sunday schools, will be held at the Chapel of Westminster College, New Wilmington, Thursday, August 1, at 2:30 p. m. After the conference there will be a recreation period consisting of tennis, swimming and mushball.

The conference speaker and leader will be Dr. R. F. Galbreath, president of Westminster College.

The picnic supper will be served in space to rear of the U. P. church at 6:00 p. m. and those attending are to bring a tureen, bread and butter, knife, fork and spoon and drinking glass. Paper plates, paper napkins and lemonade will be furnished.

The vesper service after the picnic supper will be in charge of Marjorie Streeter, young people's superintendent of the Lawrence County Sabbath School Association.

The county association is composed of 8 districts and the Young People's Councils of these districts are urged to send good delegations. Pastors, Sunday school superintendents, county and district officers are invited to be present and are requested to bring one or more young people with them.

Tigers-Indians In Close Battle

Only Half-Game Difference In American League Pennant Race, Dodgers Lose To Reds

By ED KIELY
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, July 25—An all west "World Series" loomed today as the Tigers and the Indians pulled away from the other teams in their battle for American League supremacy and the rampant Reds gave no indication of easing up in their almost faultless run towards a second National League flag.

With each passing day, the Yankees and the Red Sox, pre-season favorites in the junior circuit, continue to look worse, clearing the way for a ding-dong stretch battle between Cleveland and Detroit. Meanwhile, Cincinnati, after taking the Dodgers three straight, seem to have broken down the morale of the only formidable opposition in their division.

Tigers Top Senators

Yesterday the Tigers maintained their one-half game margin over the Clevelanders by outlasting the Senators, 7 to 5, in a see-saw struggle. Big Hank Greenberg and Pinky Higgins turned the tide in favor of the home towners by cracking out their 18th and 12th homers of the season, respectively.

Meantime, the Indians eked out a 7 to 6 victory over the Athletics but received the scare of their lives when Bob Feller was struck in the face by a ball thrown by Keith Monroe, a sandlotter who was working out with the Tribe during batting practice. After an examination, club officials reported the injury was not serious.

The Yanks dropped their fifth consecutive contest, 14 to 12, to the Browns in a wild game in which the modern record for the most pitchers used on one major league battle was tied. In the slugfest, New York called upon six twirlers and the Brownies five. Walt Judnich broke up a tie in the ninth with his 18th homer of the season.

The White Sox made it six wins in a raw by out-powerhousing the Red Sox 12 to 10, in a foray which provided employment for seven hurlers. A total of 34 base knocks—20 for Chicago and 14 for Boston—was collected, with six of them being four-baggers.

Reds Topple Dodgers

A partisan crowd of 30,102 Brooklynites packed Ebbets Field last night only to watch the Reds increase their league lead to eight games by crushing the beloved Dodgers, 6 to 3. Bucky Walters spread seven hits over the nine innings to rack up his 15th triumph against four losses this semester.

In the only other National League game, the Boston Bees evened up the count in their current series with the Cubs by scoring a 4 to 3 win. The veteran Johnny Cooney led the Bees 14-hit attack on Claude Passeau with a double and three singles in four trips to the plate.

A night struggle between the Phillies and the Cards was rained out and the Pirates and the Giants were not scheduled.

Jim Gleeson, the Cubs' personable outfield star, had trouble getting started last season, but this year things are different. Given a chance to play centre field regularly, Gleeson has been a sensation both in the field and at bat.

REYNOLDS, SUMMERS & McCANN

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Following a lapse of a score of years Oil City has returned to baseball. In those mushroom days, Oil City and Franklin composed an outlaw loop, and it might be said both aggregations were star-studded. And since time has mellowed feelings we can now, in a fair degree of safety, reveal who stole Gene Layden, outfielder; Harry O'Donnell, catcher, et. al. from Franklin. In the mushroom days such a revelation would have been somewhat hazardous because the late Jim Borland of Franklin in a missive to Yours Truly said that "if he found out who did it he would run him into the mountains like a bear." The truth of the theft is Yours Truly executed the steal.

Franklin had played the Castle Cords here. Following the game officials of the rubber company which sponsored the Castle Cords repaired to the Lawrence club and the Franklinites went to the Fountain Inn. One of the Franklin players unwittingly imported to the writer that "the manager of the Franklin team was trying to sign Paul McCullough." Visions of revenge and a patriotic duty to the home team inspired the writer to tarry and it was not long until we had information that O'Donnell, a catcher, and Layden, outfielder, were susceptible and, for a fair price, would jump. This info' was imparted to the men with the money bags and a confab was arranged.

The writer did not sit in on the pow wow but when O'Donnell et. al. emerged from the Lawrence club their countenances betrayed they had penned their names to a Castle Cord contract. Kinney could not be secured. If recollection serves me accurately each of the players got either $600 or $650 per month. Think of that, in these days of lean pocketbooks! Not long afterward into the fold came Bill James, a pitcher, and later on Mickie Lo Longe, Oil City catcher, was tied up with the Castle Cords. And all of this because a Franklin played tipped Yours Truly that Franklin wanted Paul McCullough.

Those were the days when Mr. Duersten yelled lustily, yanked bundles of green lettuce from his pocket and shouted: "$50 for a home run! $50 for a home run." He usually paid. Fans beat tin pans and yelled themselves hoarse not once but many times during the existence of the Cords. However, the team broke up but not, however, until a record had been established here, it being the feat of Pitcher Fred Carts who up to that time was made miserable by some fans who didn't like him setting down the Homestead Grays in a twin bill. From that time on Fred was a hero.

Jefferson A. C. fight attaches are casting eyes hither and yon for punchers; that is, boys who can land one punch to a vulnerable spot and cause an opponent to sprawl upon the broad of his back and gaze glassily at the illuminated bulbs. Pink tea hop-skip-and-jump type lack the appeal of the lay 'em down clique. The Jefferson will put on a show for the Neshannock firemen August 12.

Until the present, amateur fights here have been of the three rounds, three minute variety. Why not try the five rounds, two minute affairs? At least, the last or grand finale of a show could be a five-round clash. Many amateurs blow after two minutes and a three-minute gruelling pace apparently is too long for some youngsters. California's success after the long distance fights were wiped out was due to four-round whirls.

It won't be long now until George Barrett, one of Jim Farley's post men, packs his duffel-bag containing pipes, tobacco, knives fishin' tackle and hies forth with Adolf Lang for the cooling fish-filled waters of Beverly lake, Canada. They showed Yours Truly one of their poles yesterday. It is labeled: "professional" which means that from now on neither will be allowed to appear in amateur fishing ranks. Just how George will feel, after fishing for months here for suckers, when he gets hold a nice bass or an eel wraps itself around weed beds, cannot be foretold until he returns.

It is rounding about the time of year for Carl Myland of Chi' to put in an appearance, always welcomed. ...Cowden Moore, the marathoner of '09, was seen strolling through the main highways several nights back. .. Babe Mosely, former catcher, is around but not playing baseball!... Indications are that if Fiz Rodenbaugh continues on with the Moose team he will some day become the patriarch of baseball, the present heads of which are ex-Sheriff Bob Whaley and ex-Sheriff Bill Andrews...Harry Evans and George Anthony, both songsters, are keenly interested in boxing. Evans is a booster for two-minute instead of three-minute round bouts for amateurs.

The reason why the Neshannock firemen are sponsoring a benefit boxing show is to get the money which can be used to advantage in defending properties from the ravages of fire in that section...Bob Pastor would like to beat Billy Conn, outpoint Maxie Baer then get a third whack at Joe Louis. He says he will beat Conn, who retorts "Pastor won't lay a glove on me," all of which is fodder for fandom to devour then rush through the turnstiles to aid Mike Jacobs coffers.... According to reports, Peter Maher, who will be buried in Baltimore today, fought nine men in one night in Baltimore.

Judges Mike Bernsein of Wilkes-Barre and Roy Edwards of Williamsport voted for Billy Soose of Farrell while Referee Jack Walton of Scranton voted for Ken Overlin at Scranton last night and, as they say in city council meeting, "Soose has it." It was a 10-round nontitle fight. However, Jack Duddy, United Press sports writer, says: "Most of the large contingent of New York boxing writers who witnessed the bout * * * did not agree with the decision." Regardless, the decision given the former Penn State amateur virtually assures him of a middleweight titular shot.

Florimel raced against nine other juveniles to win the American 2-year-old trot, feature of the G. C. program at Pawtucket. Both heats were won in 2:10½. Little Pat turned in the fastest mile of the meeting in the first heat in the first division in the Trotting club stake. It was 2:03½. He took the second heat in 2:04.

Helen Bernhard, defending champion, New York, lost to England's red-haired Mary Hardwick 4-6, 6-3, 6-3 and Bryan Grant, Jr., Atlanta, dropped before Henry Prusoff, Seattle vet, 6-2, 6-3, ni the third round of the Seabright invitation tennis tourney yesterday. The other favorites moved forward.

DIAMOND DUST

After having occupied a cellar role, a position somewhat strange, Bessemer is showing life and climbing the Lawrence loop ladder. A week ago Bessemer was in last place and today is in fourth position.

The New Castle Hot Tops hurled back Ellwood City for a defeat on Tuesday. The Tubers have been heading the Lawrence loop since the beginning of the second half. Good pitching by Barry turned the trick.

When the Riecks of years ago clash with the stars of the City league, a big crowd will turn out. In the days when Mike Donovan was manager and the late Henry Goldberg, sponsor, the Riecks had a splendid team.

The Loyal Order of Moose is hopeful of getting Rabbit Maranville, baseball star of yesteryear, and a brilliant instructor of today, to address their players in the near future.

The Johnson Bronze and the Ellport Tigers will top off the picnic with a softball game Saturday. Kiski Marino and the rest of the rooters at the Johnson Bronze can scarcely await the clash.

Lawrence league extra base hitters Tuesday: Bessemer, doubles, Anderson 2, J. Tropea, Valentine, Hrvatine; Medusa, Kosior, Winters, Pistol; triples, Ellwood, Ritz and Mazzant, who also doubled; Hot Tops, doubles, L. Guzetti and Ritz.

Judging from play, the White Sox will bow to Bessemer at Bessemer Friday. The Hot Tops seem posted to take over Medusa at Wampum, with Ellwood City favored to defeat Brent's coal miners.

Bessemer At Ellwood Today

Lawrence League Baseball Race Is Deadlocked At Present Time

Bessemer and Ellwood City will play at Ellwood City at 5:45 p. m. today.

If Ellwood City loses, Hot Tops will enter first place and if Ellwood City wins, the Tubers will continue as they have up to today to lead the race in the second half.

Merchant-Employee Picnic Fine Success

ELLWOOD CITY, July 25. — A beautiful day, a congenial crowd, good food, free amusements, and an ideal setting combined to make the merchant-employee picnic held on Wednesday afternoon and evening at Stoughton's Beach, a decided success.

Contributing most of all to the success of the outing was the manner in which the 2,300 people attending were served a delectable picnic supper by the committee. Only about 800 reservations had been made and the manner in which the merchants and residents came to the front in providing a free dinner for the crowd is something that is seldom equalled. The entire 2,300 were served in grand picnic style in an hour's time and the food, all of picnic variety, was delicious and plentiful.

Led by Police Chief Ernest Hartman the long caravan of merrymakers left town about 1 o'clock and arrived at the park a short time later. High-lighting the afternoon was the much heralded ball game between the employees and the merchants with the former winning 17 to 11. The winning team will be awarded tiny gold baseballs.

In the early evening there was a water carnival and later a dance was enjoyed. Because of the immense crowd, the dance contests were cancelled.

During the day 200 gallons of lemonade and 100 gallons of coffee were distributed. Ten thousand tickets to the various park amusements were used.

Gratifying to the leaders was the fact that no rain or accidents of any kind marred the day. Officials are proud that this is the fifth year Ellwood City has had large picnics without accidents of any nature.

The affair was arranged by the Merchants Division of the Chamber of Commerce and the smooth functioning of the hundreds of details included in an undertaking of this kind were efficiently directed by Chamber of Commerce secretary, R. J. Schill.

The division is most grateful to the highly organized committee who solved the dinner problem in such a satisfactory manner. They are: S. E. West, chairman, Patsy Adams, Mike Poholsky, Frank Coleman, Mrs. Frank Coleman, Mrs. S. E. Eicholtz, Jim McKelvey, Mrs. James McKelvey, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. I. P. West, Ralph Miller; merit book, Lou Young, J. C. McCarren, Arthur Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Hamilton, Roy Hamilton, Nick Loccasino, Tom Patterson, Mrs. Thomas Patterson, Chester Patterson, Mel Guy, Bob DiFalco, Charlie Wilson, Bob Shearer, Carl Martin, Mike Edelman, S. Berkowitz, Harold Marshall, Harry Turner, Ralph Herge, Mr. Young, Mrs. S. E. West, Howard Williams and the Pettibone store crew, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bellissimo, Mrs. Nichols, Ray Reed, Mrs. Frank Rowan, Jack Evans, Mary Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Burkle, Jake Britton and if anyone was overlooked the highest of praise to them.

Since the death of his wife several years ago, he had resided with his son, Frank Rocco, of 308 Fourth street. Members of the family told county coroner, Dr. T. F. The family did not hear him return and did not discover the tragedy until about 8:45. He had been ailing for sometime, the family said. FROM ME TO YOU

By MESEEALL

This little poem is dedicated to those who really want to go back.

This dog-goned city's got my goat; I want to pull my freight
An' head for somewhere far out West that's not so up-to-date.
I want to ride an old cow hoss to heck with these sedans;
I want to feel an honest breeze not from electric fans.
I want my meals o' pork an' beans, an' coffee with 'em, too;
I'm sick of foreign dishes with a demi-tasse when through.
I'm sick o' havin' waiters hangin' 'round me when I eat
For service our chuck wagon's a cafe that can't be beat.
I want to see the kind of gals they raise out on the plains;
I'm fed up on these flappers an' these painted city janes.
I'd like to see a dance where I could one-step in my boots,
An' wear a pair o' corduroys—to thunder with dress suits!
An' stayin' up till 3 a. m. before I hit the hay.
I'd like to sleep one night again out underneath the stars.
An' hear the lowin' cattle 'stead of hummin' motor cars.
I'm homesick, boy, I'm homesick, an' I want to be again
Away out West where gals is gals an' men is really men,
I want to feel my knees a-straddle a cayuse
An' try my hand to see if I can't swing a wicked noose.
I want to try my hand at throwin' cattle on the run,
An' even mendin' fence would be to me a lot o' fun.
This city life is great old stuff—at least, that's what they say
But for myself I'd rather be a cowhand any day.

Stock Market Eases Slightly

Volume Continues Extremely Light In Market, Special Issues Are Dealt In

By LESLIE GOULD
(International News Service Financial Writer)

NEW YORK, July 25.—The stock market eased a little further today, but as in the preceding session losses generally were of modest proportions.

Volume continued extremely light, although slightly above the 22-year low record of 195,000 shares established in yesterday's five-hour session. Sales for the first hour today were 60,000 shares vs. 40,000 shares on Wednesday.

A good portion of the forenoon activity was provided by dealings in a handful of special issues. The low-priced Curtiss Wright made frequent appearances on the tape, including one block of 4,400 shares at 6½, off ⅜ from last night's close.

Railroad freight loadings for last week were expected to show a contra-seasonal decline.

Steels, as in yesterday's session, were among the softest on the board. Bethlehem, U. S. Steel, Youngstown Sheet & Tube and Crucible each lost about a half-point.
